

Instructor's copy

Social Media and

Washington's Farewell Address

Note: The students' tweets will vary significantly in phrasing (and grammar). You want to look for tweets that capture the spirit of Washington's remarks and demonstrate the students' abilities when it comes to reading, understanding, and summarizing the ideas. Below are some examples of what such tweets may look like.

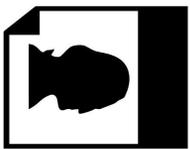

TheLibertyReport
@L\_R\_News

Avoid drama by not getting sucked into dumb partisanship.
Sectionalism is bad news all around.

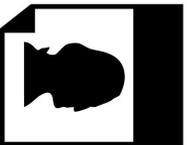

TheLibertyReport
@L\_R\_News

TheLibertyReport
@L\_R\_News

@TheAmericanPeople remember that war = debt = higher taxes$$$

TheLibertyReport
@L\_R\_News

w/o ✓s & balances 1 branch can totally seize power
#dontoverthrow #amendinstead

TheLibertyReport
@L\_R\_News

Srsly, neutrality rocks, free trade for all #globaleconomy
#makemoneynotwar

@realpatriots remember that foreign nations will try to influence u, don't be a dupe, resist!